God of justice and peace, from the heavens you rain down mercy and kindness, that all on earth may stand in awe and wonder before your marvelous deeds.

Raise our heads in expectation, that we may yearn for the coming day of the Lord and stand without blame before your Son, Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns for ever and ever.

You herald the coming of the Son of Man by wondrous signs in the heavens and on the earth.

Guard our hearts from despair so that we, in the company of the faithful and by the power of your Holy Spirit, may be found ready on the day of your coming.

Give us ears to hear and eyes to watch, that we may know your presence in our midst during this holy season of hope.

We light this candle as a symbol of the hope we have in the coming—and coming again—of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Hymn To us a Child of hope is born (vs. 1,2) # 189

Moment for Mission

Hearing from God's Word
 Scripture Luke 21:25-36 (NT, p. #85-86)
 Message Hope

Prayer of Confession
Most merciful God,
we confess that we have sinned against you in thought, word, and deed, by what we have done, and by what we have left undone.

We have not loved you with our whole heart; we have not loved our neighbors as ourselves.

We are truly sorry and we humbly repent.

For the sake of your son Jesus Christ, have mercy on us and forgive us; that we may delight in your will and walk in your ways to the glory of your name.

Amen.

Sharing Joys and Concerns

Pastoral Prayer, with the Lord's prayer
Our Father in heaven, holy is your name. Your kingdom come, your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us today our daily bread. Forgive us our sins, as we forgive those who sin against us. Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For yours is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

*Hymn O come, O come, Immanuel (vs. 1,3,4) #172

*Benediction

*Postlude

*Please stand as you are able.

First Sunday of Advent

News of the Brethren

Cabool, Missouri, Church of the Brethren

Nineteen people attended the Who Will Be a Witness? workshop on Saturday, Oct. 31, at Cabool (Mo.) Church of the Brethren. Discussion grew from the book of the same title by Messiah College and Harrisburg (Pa.) First Church of the Brethren member, professor Drew Hart., with the added subtitle, Igniting Activism for God's Justice, Love, and Deliverance.

The Witness Commission of the church planned the event to address the scourge of racism in light of Jesus' teachings and ministry. Highlighting portions of the book and enabling small group discussion resulted in substantive and challenging dialogue, and the group prays for courage as they attempt to address racism and prejudice of many kinds.

Pleasant Valley Church of the Brethren, Weyers Cave, VA.

The music leadership of Pleasant Valley Church of the Brethren in Weyers Cave, Va., has produced an album of hymns and praise songs titled While I Run This Race, reports the Shenandoah District. The district is distributing the album with an invitation to make donations to the Haiti Medical Project, and an invitation to share it with friends and neighbors and invite them to donate.

White Rock Church of the Brethren, Floyd, VA

White Rock Church of the Brethren's Fall Festival on Oct. 23 raised some $2,200 to benefit a family who lost a loved one to COVID-19, said an article from SWVAToday.com. "Preparation for the festival began in September, when church members gathered to make apple butter, and culminated into more than 75 quarts and pints of canned food including apple butter, blueberry jam and blackberry jelly," the article said. The festival included a yard sale to benefit the family of Matt Moses, who died Oct. 6 at age 35, leaving behind his wife and two children. Michael Pugh pastors the church located in Floyd, Va.

Ankeny Church of the Brethren, Ankeny, Iowa

Church members Rhonda and Jim Bingman installed a Little Free Library in the front yard at Ankeny (Iowa) Church of the Brethren, reports Northern Plains District. "Memorial money was used to purchase the library box, post, and memorial plaque. The box is made from composite material so little maintenance should be necessary. Jim was the first borrower when he checked out one of his own books that Rhonda donated. A bench is planned to be added in the Spring. Hopefully the neighborhood and our own members will enjoy taking a book and leaving a book."

New Book by Rebecca Dali

Speaking of books—what fuels Rebecca Dali’s passion when “responding with compassion to the most vulnerable persons in northeastern Nigeria”? According to Dali it is her personal story and history—one of “poverty, frustration, rape, a son abducted (by Boko Haram) 11 years ago”—that inspire her life’s work.

Dali, a member of Ekklesiyar Yan’uwa a Nigeria (EYN, the Church of the Brethren in Nigeria), is founder and executive director of CCEPI (Center for Caring, Empowerment, and Peace Initiative). CCEPI is an organization that serves the most vulnerable populations who have been traumatized by Boko Haram attacks. Her work has attracted worldwide attention and support. In recognition of her work, as part of the observance of World Humanitarian Day on Aug. 21, 2017, Dali was awarded the Sergio Vieira de Mello medal at the Palais des Nations, where the UN meets in Geneva, Switzerland. Her speech at the event was titled “We Have Walked in Each Other’s Shoes.”

Dali and her husband Samuel currently live in the United States. On Oct. 9, she spoke to 26 CCEPI-USA board members and guests in Manheim, Pa., attending the launch of a book about her childhood and life’s work. We Have Walked in Each Other’s Shoes: Rebecca Dali’s Story is written by Frank Ramirez with Rebecca Dali and is illustrated by the author’s daughter, Jessica Ramirez, who painted and photographed a series of nesting dolls in the Russian style, reflecting different stages of Dali’s life.

The book is targeted for middle-school students, but readers of all ages will benefit from this story. It begins with the award ceremony, then moves backward in time as the layers of her life unfold. The image of the nesting dolls reflects the fact that the person we are now was formed by what happened to us in the past. We carry the weight of our many experiences with us all the time. We are layers of our past and present selves stacked inside each other.

Dali has reflected on the suffering she has both witnessed and endured, and how the great traumas of her own childhood caused her to care deeply about the people of her country, and indeed, all suffering people.

At the book launch, she reiterated the history of CCEPI and outlined plans for construction of a new school in Nigeria. Rehabilitation services include crisis aid, trauma rehabilitation, skills training, and are open to Christians and Muslims. Basic medical services are provided, and access is arranged for more complicated medical needs. Classes are offered teaching sewing, knitting, computer skills, along with agricultural and livestock education. Legal services are offered to survivors.
